The Class Will

DOROTHY HEDELUND

WE THE SENIORS of the Blair High School, Blair, Washington County, Nebraska, do hereby make, publish and declare our last will and testament in words and figures following: We give devise and bequeath unto the Juniors all our valuables of every description, both real and he may appreciate its location, unreal.

I, ROY BREWSTER, do hereby will and bequath the smallness of my feet to Ralph Mencke that he may have them as an ideal worth striving for.

I, DOROTHY JIPP, bequath my extraordinary knowledge of Chemistry to Theordore Lundt that he may profit by it this year and if necessary next year.

I, EMMA NELSON, leave my naturally curly hair to Helen Rathmann as a beauty mark.

I, AUDRA GOLTRY bestow my timidity upon David Mathews, that he need not be so forward.

I, AGNETE HANSEN, leave my massive bodily structure to John Hansen that he may know some limit for his height.

I, EVA SCHAFER, bestow my knowledge of the various histories to Bob Redfield that he will not need to overexert his brain next year.

I, GRACE GEORGE, leave my well earned reputation, the sub, to Lucille McCracken, the naughty pedagogue, so she need not spend so much energy in acquiring the same and put forth more effort on the matter to be
